Aaron Eunhyuk Lee

Opernsänger Bassbaritone, Bass

Bass Aaron Eunhyuk Lee commenced his vocal studies at Deokwon Art High School in South Korea. He subsequently pursued opera singing at Hanyang University in South Korea until 2019.

Since 2021, he has been pursuing his studies at the University of Music in Weimar under the guidance of Prof. Gudrun Fischer. He successfully completed his master's degree in 2023 and is currently engaged in the concert exam.

During his studies in South Korea, he was awarded first prize at the Busan International Opera Competition. He made his debut as a young singer with the role of Bartolo (Le nozze di Figaro) at the Seongnam Art Center in Seoul, Korea. This was followed by roles such as Commendatore (Don Giovanni), Colline (La Bohème), and Simone (Gianni Schicchi).

At the Hochschule für Musik in Weimar, he assumed roles such as Don Alfonso (Cosi fan tutte), Figaro (Le nozze di Figaro), and the Grand Inquisitor (Don Carlo). In 2022, he appeared as Grenvil in a production of La Traviata in Bad Birnbach. He also appeared in Salzburg (Oper im Berg) as Don Basilio in Il barbiere di Siviglia and as Colline in Puccini's La Bohème.

Eunhyuk Lee is based in Weimar.
